

The aim of this travel grant was to attend to the 2014 Neurobiology of Stress Workshop

June 17-20, 2014 Cincinnati, Ohio

During the workshop I had the opportunity to know a lot of researchers in the field of stress and to interact with them. I also had the chance to visit for a couple of days the laboratory of Dr. Herman, who is one of the organizers of the event and with whom we have an ongoing collaboration. I was able to discuss my results with him and his group to decide the future direction of our project.

I thank CAEN for this grant and here are two photographs of me in the meeting.

Kinds Regards,

Evelin Cotella
