

ISN SYMPOSIA Report

a. Basic information (the title of the Symposium and meeting, dates, organiser, the venue, etc.)

“ISN Symposium: One mechanism to rule them all: Signaling and endosomal pathways involved in the health and disease of the nervous system”. Meeting SAN2022. From 30 September to 2 October. IFIBYNE, University City, University of Buenos Aires.

Organizing Committee:

-Marta Antonelli, Ph.D. (Instituto de Biología Celular y Neurociencia «Prof Dr. Eduardo De Robertis», Fmed-UBA)

-Ivanna Castro Pascual, Ph.D. student (IMIBIO-CONICET, San Luis)

-Macarena Fernandez , Ph.D. (Instituto de Investigaciones en Psicología-IIPsi-CONICET-UNC)

-Mauricio Galiano, Ph.D. (Dpto. Química Biológica Ranwel Caputto, UNC)

-Ana Fabiola Macchione, Ph. D. (Instituto de Investigaciones Psicológicas IIPsi-CONICET, UNC)

-Verónica Ramírez, Ph.D (Unidad de Neurobiología Aplicada -UNA, CEMIC-CONICET-)

-Diego Rayes, Ph.D. (Instituto de Investigaciones Bioquímicas de Bahía Blanca)

-Victoria Rozes Salvador, Ph.D.(Dep. Bioquímica Clínica, CIBICI-CONICET)

b. Speakers

-Dr. Ching-Hwa Sung. Weill Cornell, New York, USA

Title of the talk: “Multitasking roles by endosome in retinal homeostasis and disease”.

-Dr. Christian Gonzalez Billault. Universidad de Chile, Chile

Title of the talk: “Coordinated functions of small GTPases from the Rho, Arf, and Rab families define neuronal morphology”.

-Dr. Anahí Bignante. Inst. Ferreyra, Argentina

Title of the talk: “Role of the Go/betagama signaling pathway in amyloidogenesis”.

-Dr. Natalí Chanaday. University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, USA

Title of the talk: “Synaptic vesicles and the secretory pathway: overlap and differences”.

c. A short description of the highlights of the symposium

The focus of the symposium was to highlight several well-defined mechanisms and molecules involved in relevant aspects of neuronal survival and degeneration. In this sense, the speakers' talks were innovative and focused on those aspects not yet fully understood.

Another interesting point was that two speakers were senior PI and two were early career PI. This generated questions and different points of view that were very interesting for the debate and the possibility of collaboration.

Finally, the audience was amazed and excited by the level of talk and the questions that arose. At the same time, they were grateful to have this type of symposium at a local congress.

d. Number of attending people

-450 registered, 400 attendees

-250 posters presented

e. Travel subsidies for the speakers of the ISN symposium:

Dr. Ching-Hwa Sung: 1200 USD for air tickets.

Dr. Christian Gonzalez Billault: 380 USD for air tickets.

Dr. Anahí Bignante: 250 UDS for air tickets.

Dr. Nataly Chanaday was online.

f. Budget; detailed ISN budget, how the ISN funds were utilized:

-Registration fees for the speakers: 200 USD each: 800 USD total.

-Air tickets for Dr. Ching-Hwa Sung: 1200 USD.

-Air tickets for Dr. Gonzalez Billault: 380 USD.

-Air tickets for Dr. Bignante: 250 USD.

-Hotel for the speakers (4 nights) : 80 USD/night: 320 USD each: 960 USD total.

-Travel grants for students: 55 USD each; 45 students: 2700 USD total.

Total budget: 6290 USD.

g. Confirmation of the used of the provided ISN slides to inform the audience on ISN and on the benefits of an ISN membership.

Please find attached with the report, the PDF with the slices presented.

h. Confirmation of the posting of information on the ISN supported event on the ISN Social Media channels before the event took place.

i. Confirmation of the posting of some concluding statements with pictures on the success of the ISN supported event on the ISN Social Media channels after the event took place.

Please find the photos at the of the report.

k. Comments of at least three attendants about the Symposium

-Comment 1: “The symposium was high-level, and the talks were dynamic and diverse. The speakers were all very clear and presented excellent data”. Juan Bourbotte, Ph.D. student, INIMEC-CONICET-UNC, Córdoba, Argentina.

-Comment 2: “The symposium was very well orchestrated, the talks had meeting points and several models and questions were addressed. The level overall was outstanding and congratulations on having senior and early career speakers.” Marcela Brocco, Senior PI, Instituto de Investigaciones Biotecnológicas, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

-Comment 3: “Excellent! It was a great symposium, with very good speakers and different approaches. Speakers at different levels of the career with several experimental tools and questions. Congratulations!!”. Fernanda Ledda, Senior PI, Instituto Leloir, Buenos Aires, Argentina.
